The Château de Ramezay

Claude de Ramezay, eleventh Governor of Montreal, appointed 1703, was born in France 1657, came to Canada in 1685, with a number of other young officers, in the suite of Governor De Nonville. He was then a lieutenant in de Troye's company of Marine troops, which later took part in the expedition to Hudson's Bay. His promotion was rapid, being captain in 1687, later colonel, then commandant of troops and finally Governor of the Town and its district.

In 1687 he took part in the expedition against the Iroquois and in 1690, when Phipps appeared before Quebec, he brought over 800 men from Montreal for the defence of the former town.

History tells of the spirited defence made by Frontenac and his gallant officers, the later, no doubt, being encouraged by the bright smiles of some of Quebec's fair daughters who it seems, lost no time in rewarding their brave defenders with their heart and hand. Scarcely had the last of Phipps fleet disappeared around Point Levi, than de Ramezay led to the altar Melle Marie-Charlotte Denys, a daughter of Denys de la Ronde, one of the wealthiest families of Canada. His companion in arms, de Vaudreuil, at the same time married Louise daughter of Pierre de Joybert de Soulanges. Could they have seen into the future their happiness would have been clouded by sorrow, for it was destined that a son of the Ramezay should be the one to open the gates of Quebec to the English in 1759 and a son of de Vaudreuil should do likewise, at Montreal, the following year.

De Ramezay was one of the most prominent men of his time, occupying an official position in Canada for a term exceeding forty years. He was Seigneur de la Gesse, de Montigny, de Boisfleurent in France, and in Canada was Seigneur de Monnoir and de Ramezay, Knight of the Military Order of St. Louis, Governor of Montreal, and Commandant of all the militia in the country, and was administrator of the Governor-Generalship during the two years' absence of de Vaudreuil in France.

The Château was built in 1705. The neighborhood was then the fashionable part of the town, and was occupied by the Baron de Longueuil, the Contrecoeurs, d'Eschambaults, d'Ailleboust and Madame de Portneuf, the widow of Baron Becancourt. Situated on a hill, and opposite to the magnificent garden of the Jesuits, this plain unembellished house had an open view to the river front. The vaults were of ancient castle construction. Even the attic floors were of stone slabs.

Under de Ramezay's regime, 1703 to 1724, this venerable edifice was the hall of entertainment of the illustrious of the country. The many expeditions to the distant fur fields, the voyages of discovery of new lands, the council of war, the military expeditions, the conferences with the Indians, the annual fairs and fur trading market, attracted to the shores of Montreal, not only the Governor-General, the Intendant, and their suites, but a considerable number of the most important people of the country, including all classes of society. To one and all the portals of this hospitable mansion were ever open. To the lowly Indian and his squaw, and to the exalted nobleman and his consort, the noble and beneficent Ramezay and his family showed equal attention. Fearless to the Indian or enemy, his bravery and charity were equally exemplified in the personal care and attention he and his family gave to the suffering citizens of Montreal during the pest which devastated the town in 1721.

De Ramezay died in 1724, and his family sold the Château to the Compagnie des Indes in 1745. The latter retained possession until the cession, in 1763, when it was bought by Wm. Grant, who, in turn, disposed of it to the English Government for the sum of two thousand gnineas. It thus became again the residence of the Governors, and remained such up to 1849.

In 1775-6, the Château was the Headquarters for the Continental Army under Montgomery, and in the spring of 1776, there came Benjamin Franklin, Carroll of Carrollton, and Samuel Chase, envoys sent by Congress to influence the French Canadians to join the colonies in the revolt against British rule. Then came Benedict Arnold, who occupied the Château for several weeks. The mark of the old reception dais is still seen on the salon walls.

Lord Meacalfe was the last resident governor, but for some years after his establishment in a new government house the Château was used for departmental offices. When the government was withdrawn from Montreal, the Château served several purposes. For some years courts were held here, and later the Normal School, then courts again.

In 1894 the Château was sold by the Provincial Government and purchased by the Corporation of the City of Montreal, for the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, which, in 1895, obtained the building for the purpose of founding their Historical Portrait Gallery and Museum.

The Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal

In the month of December, 1862, several gentleman of Montreal, desirous of cultivating the study of Numismatics, some of whom had been meeting informally for a couple of years at the house of Mr. James Ferrier, judging the formation of a properly organized association as the most efficacious means of attaining that end, formed "The Numismatic Society of Montreal." The seal of this society was the obverse of the Canadian bronze cent, with an outer circle inscribed "Société Numismatique de Montréal. Fondée 1862."

In January, 1866, the name of the society was changed to that of the "Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Montreal," and a new seal was adopted, viz.: a round shield quartered by a tomahawk, and calumet, bearing an antique lamp, an Athenian coin with the head of Minerva, a Canadian cent with head of Victoria and a Beaver; the shield encircled with a garter bearing the words: "Numismaticae at Archeologicae Marianopolitanae Societatis Sigillum."

In 1912, the charter of incorporation was amended by Act of the Provincial Legislature and the name of the Society changed to "The Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal."

In July, 1872, the Society began the publication of "The Canadian Antiquarian and Numismatic Journal." Up to the present time three series making a total of twenty-nine volumes have been published. It was this Society acting upon the projects of individual members of it, that first suggested the project of celebrating the 250th anniversary of the founding of Montreal, and proposed three things in order to shed more lustre on so noteworthy an event. First, the erecting of a monument to the memory of Chomedy de Maisonneuve, the founder of our city; second, the saving of the Château de Ramezay from the destruction with which it was threatened; third, an historical exhibition by which the public might be enlightened regarding the rare and precious things still to be found amongst us and which the Society is endeavoring to prevent being lost to the country for ever.

The Society succeeded in bringing all three of these projects to a successful issue, and the result of its labors in the Château may be read in the pages of this catalogue.

AN APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC

The Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal maintains with its own resources the historical museum of the Château de Ramezay; it increase its collections whenever the meagre resources at its disposal enable it ot do so, and it publishes a quarterly review on archeological and numismatic subjects in French and English under the name of "THE CANADIAN ANTIQUARIAN."

The resources at its disposal for all such purposes consist of:

(a) The entry fees of its life governors ($100.00) and of its members ($2.00). (N.B. There are at present 36 life governors, and 150 members.)

(b) The annual subscription of its members consisting of $3.00 per year, and carrying a free subscription to "THE ANTIQUARIAN."

(c) The annual interest of ($400.00) resulting from an agreement made for its profit between the City of Montreal and the Provincial Government.

(d) The usual commercial percentage on the sale of souvenirs and catalogues.

(e) The contributions and donations received from visitors. (N.B. Admission to the museum is free, and contributious are merely optional.)

With such meagre resources, the Society provides for the salary of the care-taker, the cost of heating, cleaning, printing, &c., it is however confronted with the impossibility of adding to its museum the interesting historical objects which are frequently offered, but which it is unable to purchase for lack of sufficient funds.

If the public appreciates the institution thus maintained under these conditions for over half a century, it will help its maintenance either by way of contributions or by way of legacies according to one of the forms hereafter printed. The name of the life governors are inscribed on the roll of honor of the society, placed on the walls of the Château, and the names of the donors are inscribed in the register of donations.

FORM OF A LEGACY TO BE INSERTED IN A WILL.

I give and bequeath to the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal, a sum of..... dollars, free from succession duties, and payable upon the receipt of the Treasurer of the Society.

APPEL AU PUBLIC

La Société d'Archéologie et de Numismatique maintient à ses frais le musée du Château de Ramezay; elle l'augmente d'objets nouveaux quand ses faibles ressources lui permettent de le faire, et publie une revue trimestrielle d'archéologie et de numismatique en anglais et en français sous le nom de "CANADIAN ANTIQUARIAN."

Pour solder ces frais, elle a pour toutes ressources :

(a) Les droits d'entrée de ses gouverneurs-à-vie ($100.00) et de ses membres ($2.00). (N. B. Elle compte 36 gouverneurs et 150 membres.

(b) Les contributions annuelles de ses membres au chiffre de ($3.00) par année donnant droit au service gratuit de " L'ANTIQUARIAN. "

(c) L'intérêt annuel ($400.00) d'une fondation faite à son profit au gouvernement provincial.

(d) Le percentage ordinaire sur la vente des catalogues et souvenirs.

(e) Les contributions et dons que les visiteurs veulent bien lui offrir. (N. B. L'admission est gratuite et les contributions sont purement facultatives).

Avec ces faibles ressources pour faire face au salaire du gardien, aux frais de chauffage, d'impression, etc., la société se voit incapable d'augmenter son musée d'objets intéressants qui lui sont offerts mais qu'elle ne peut acheter faute de fonds.

Si cette oeuvre qu'elle maintient depuis plus d'un demi siècle est appréciée du public, elle espère qu'il aidera à son soutient, soit au moyen d'une contribution, soit par institution testamentaire, suivant l'une ou l'autre des formules ci-après. Les noms des gouverneurs sont inscrits au tableau d'honneur de la société; ceux des donateurs au régistre des contributions.

FORMULE DE LEGS A INSERER DANS UN TESTAMENT.

Je donne et lègue à la Société d'Archéologie et de Numismatique de Montréal, une somme de..... dollars, exempte de droits de succession et payable sur simple reçu du trésorier de la société.

17. Ring-bolt from first English Prison, Montreal, 1803. Sheriff Lemieux.

No. 3.

This vault in the olden time, was used for storage purposes. It was divided into four parts by walls about four feet in thickness, two of which were removed. During the occupancy by the English Governors, this vault was used as a wine cellar.

No. 4.

This vault was the principal kitchen of the Château. The great fire-place had a crane on which the pots were hung and up the chimney is an iron rod on which hams and bacon were smoked. A recess at the side is where a wheel was used in turning the spit, and generally worked by a dog.

No. 5.

This vault was used as a kitchen and bakery. In the side of the fire-place is the capacious oven, in a perfect condition as when in use two centuries ago.

THE LAWN.

In front of the Château, is the Louisbourg Gun, weighing four tons. This gun was on the French man-of-war La Prudente, which was sunk by the English in the harbor of Louisbourg, in 1758. It was raised in 1900, brought to Montreal, and presented to the Château, by

S. Coulson, Esq.

The gun carriage—an old English one of oak, made in 1843—was presented by Sir Frederick W. Borden, Minister of Militia.

The pile of solid shot number 91. This shot was brought from Cuba after the Spanish-American War.

R. W. McLachlan, Esq.

Cannon from one of the nine ships of Sir Hovenden Walker's fleet, wrecked on Isle-aux-Oeufs, Aug. 26, 1711, in the expedition which sailed for Quebec to wrest Canada from the French.

Geo. Boulter, Esq.

The front tower of the Château is surmounted by an antique wrought-iron vane (from the old Recollet Church, Notre-Dame Street), made in 1692.

On the rear tower of the Château is the Cross of the Recollet Church, 1692.

Hon. Judge Baby.
